

ILI LAW REVIEW (ILILR): Guidelines and Publication Policy

(A Peer Reviewed/ Refereed Online Journal)

The ILILR Journal of the Indian Law Institute is a UGC recognized, online, biannual blind peer reviewed law journal, numbered, 41792 with e-ISSN-0976-1489. ILILR accepts themes across legal subjects and interdisciplinary matters. Research Papers, articles, book reviews, legislation reviews, case comments etc., are accepted on a rolling basis and there is no deadline as such.

We are an Eco-friendly, open access student journal. We abide by our publication policies by avoiding usage of paper as much as possible. We have also made the Journal accessible to everyone from all over the world by simply visiting the official website of The Indian Law Institute.

We engage with authors throughout the review process of the manuscripts to enable a qualitative review without diluting the author's design. The Journal expects authors to abide by academic integrity and intellectual honesty. Papers submitted for publication should be original. Papers which are already published in other journals, anthologies etc., should not be submitted for publication.

The Indian Law Institute shall be the sole copyright owner of all the published materials. Apart from fair dealing for the purposes of research, private study or critique, no part of the journal shall be copied, adapted, abridged, translated or stored in any retrieval system, computer system, photographic or other system or reproduced in any form by any means whether electronic, mechanical, digital, optical, photographic or otherwise without prior written permission from the Institute.

GUIDELINES FOR SUBMISSIONS

The ILILR Journal accepts submissions throughout the year. All submissions are required to be addressed to the Editor, ILILR and emailed to ililawreviewjournal@gmail.com.

All submissions should be sent with a covering letter indicating the Name of the Author, Institutional Affiliation and the Topic of the paper. Co-authored papers should give details about both the authors.

TEXT FORMAT

The length of the manuscript should average between 4000 words to 15,000 words (inclusive of footnotes). Manuscripts shall be formatted according to the following guidelines.

- It shall include an abstract of not more than 150 words.
- All citations shall be placed in foot-notes.
- Number less than 100 shall be spelt out unless they are a percent (e.g., 5 percent).
- Use of first person shall be avoided.
- All pages shall be numbered.
- Uniform date format shall be used (e.g., August 15, 1947).
- Quotations: Quotations within a sentence must be enclosed in double quotation marks (“ ”). A quotation within a quotation should be enclosed in single quotation marks (‘ ’).
- A quotation longer than three lines should be set out in a separate block indented from both the left and right margins. Do not enclose the quotation in quotation marks. A quotation is introduced with a colon (:), followed by reference in footnote.
- When referring to a section or article of a statute in the main text, the word ‘section’/‘article’ should neither be abbreviated nor capitalized. However, in the footnotes the section/ article should be abbreviated.

E.g. The Constitution of India, art. 30; The Indian Penal Code, s. 42.

USE OF FOOTNOTES

ILILR prefers footnotes (to end notes) because of the following reasons:

- To identify the source of quotations or paraphrases;
- To acknowledge indebtedness for words, phrases or ideas borrowed;
- To explain where additional evidence or commentary may be found;
- To provide additional material or discussion that is relevant but which would disrupt the flow of the text if it were included in the main text itself;
- To refer the reader to other parts of the paper; and
- To enable the reader to read the reference without having to turn to the end of the text which would otherwise tend to disrupt the flow of the text and hamper smooth reading.

CITATION FORMAT

The Institute has formulated a set pattern of citation (i.e., ILI Rules of Footnoting), which is followed in ILILR and various other publications of the Institute. The citation style in the articles and notes and comments submitted for publication in JILI shall be in conformity with the ILI Rules of footnoting available at www.ili.ac.in/cstyle.pdf.
